Description

Schenker Italiana, part of DB Schenker group (the Transport and Logistics division of Deutsche Bahn), starts its activity as a representative office in Milan in 1963. Today Schenker is one of the Italian's leading provider of integrated logistics services. Presently with 40 branches and more than 100.000 square meters of warehouses, covers 90% of the Italian territory offering a comprehensive range of land transport services (road, intermodal and rail), air and ocean freight as well as contract logistics solutions.

DB Schenker has Europe's most extensive land transports network supported by the rail expertise of the largest rail freight company in Europe (Deutsche Bahn). All land transport terminals and hubs are tightly connected and every day several linehaul trucks depart from these terminals.

We are also specialized in providing air and ocean freight solutions as well as all other associated logistics services. The global air and ocean freight network has 800 locations and 21.000 employees worldwide offering a wide range of both standard and customized services to meet customers' demand.

The local competence of our experts, allow us to offer the most complete assistance to plan, manage and control your consignments. Team of experts cooperate to find reliable and efficient logistics solutions. The wide range of value added services simplify your working systems enhancing your business. Our online services interface with all DB Schenker transport products, from air to ocean freight, as well as land and combined transports.
